

The Etkin Lab at Stanford University is looking for volunteer Research Assistants to help run TMS-EEG and fMRI experiments!

This is a great way to gain experience in a Cognitive Neuroscience laboratory. For more information on the lab, visit our website:

<http://etkinlab.stanford.edu/>

Etkin Lab - Stanford University School of Medicine

etkinlab.stanford.edu

The Etkin Lab strives to understand the neural basis of emotional disorders and their treatment, and to leverage this knowledge to develop novel treatment interventions.

No experience required. Minimum of 6 hours a week to dedicate to running experiments. 6 months or more commitment required.

Please contact crolle@stanford.edu if you are interested!